Feel Promise Broken Find "Sense of Grievance" In Army on Repatriation

By ROSS MUNRO
UTRECHT, Holland, July 18.—(CP)—Hon. Ian MacKenzie said today he found a "sense of grievance" among Canadian troops in Europe who feel the government "is not carrying out its promise that the policy of 'first in, first out' will be followed" in the repatriation system.

Mr. MacKenzie said he believed the opinions of Canadian soldiers in Holland split about 50-50 on the question of repatriation by units as opposed to a point-priority system, and he intended to advise the Canadian government of his findings, probably recommending a compromise system.

The Canadian minister of veterans' affairs, touring among units of the 1st Canadian Army in Europe, has visited four divisions in the last three days. Today he said in an interview:

SENSE OF GRIEVANCE
"There is a sense of grievance here among the troops that the government is not carrying out its promise to soldiers that the policy of 'first in, first out' will be followed."

It is a personal view that a soldier who has a definite right to priority for repatriation should be given an opportunity to assert his right and reduce home or waiting list, and volunteer to go with a unit on the system. It will be a privilege to inform the cabinet of this situation when I return to Ottawa and I will probably make this recommendation."

Last week Canadian Army headquarters informed troops in Holland that repatriation on the point-priority system was coming to an end, and the balance-and-bulk-up system was being introduced.

Definite Policy Armed Services To Speed Release Of Building Men

OTTAWA, July 18.—(CP)—The labor department today released a copy of a telegram to deputy chairmen of industrial and selection and release committees across Canada outlining suggestions to facilitate the release of building trade workers from the armed forces.

The telegram, signed by Raymond Barger, chairman of the Industrial Selection and Release Board, said that due to the national housing problem a definite policy had been decided by the board, effective immediately, for the selection and release of building trades workers to consider "very favorably" all applications submitted for the release of men from the armed forces who will be working in building trade occupations such as bricklayers, plasterers, plumbers, carpenters, roofers, electricians and the like.

It is understood that such men should have a "first priority" experience, the telegram said.

"This policy will also apply to men who are in the armed forces."

Latest Gold Find "Amazingly Rich"

Reports reaching Edmonton on the spectacular discovery of sizable gold in the South Saskatchewan Lake area reveal that assays have run as high as 45 ounces, which mining men here say is "amazingly rich."

The find was made by Al Stenhouse and George Bledsoe, two prospectors, on the TXD claims, about 10 miles west of the Regina area of the Desperance Lake field, about 60 miles east of Yellowknife.

The vein is reported to have been traced for 300 feet and runs to a depth of about 15 feet.

Gamelin Says: Maginot Line's Strength Myth to Keep Public Calm

This is the third of a series of articles on France's defeat by the Germans which commended her armistice for five years before and during the war.

By GEN. MAURICE-GUSTAVE GAMELIN

PARIS, July 18.—(AP)—I have a passion for definition before discussion. Therefore, I ask "what was the Maginot line?"

On this point there are still some serious ambiguities. There are many people even in France who believe the country lay sheltered behind "La Ligne Maginot" and that it protected all our dangerous frontiers.

Public opinion and to give credence to the propaganda of the day, it is necessary to correct this error. The Maginot line was never intended to be a line of defense, but a line of observation.

Troops Consider Promise Broken On Repatriation

They would be moved home almost entirely by ship and sub-subsidized financially as far as possible.

NOT INFLUENCING FACTOR

It was officially stated that the army authorities considered that the time had come when high point of the war could no longer be an influencing factor in repatriation.

(A soldier receives three points for each month of overseas service and two points for each month of service in Canada, plus 20 per cent of the total if he is married or 30 per cent if he is either a widower or divorced with dependent children. If a man is married once but his wife has died, he does not qualify for a 20 per cent bonus.)

Mr. McKinnon said he found troops said more questions about this issue of repatriation, as opposed to the point system of repatriation than any other subject discussed during his tour, and "they were split about 50-50 on this question."

GOVERNMENT PROMISE

"The government definitely gave a promise to the troops to follow the first in, first out principle. It is an obligation of honor to carry out this promise," he added. "It seems to me to be the only way of making a compromise of the basic justice of the point system of the first in, first out and the last out of the unit system."

The minister announced he was not being critical of the army, which has a strong case for the unit repatriation system. This new phase of the troop movement home, he said he had administrative difficulties in administering services to troops at home. However, he felt an adjustment should be made.

"There is another factor. Some high-point soldiers who are still held here as a result of the repatriation system are worried about the troops received from wives and families in Canada who are being sent home. They are being sent home from the front and have a lower point value than those who have been sent home from the front. They are being sent home from the front and have a lower point value than those who have been sent home from the front."

MUST MAKE STATEMENT

"I think the government must make a full statement explaining such situations to wives and families," he added.

Asked if the unit-point problem might be extricated out between the British and Canadian governments, Mr. McKinnon said that the latter's return to Canada—expected soon—would be a very long question, a very long question.

ALMOST 8,000 TROOPS RETURNED TO CANADA

LONDON, July 18.—(CP)—The United Kingdom office of the Canadian forces' repatriation, Miss Leif, said today that almost 8,000 Canadian troops had returned to Canada.

Family Bonus Cheques Ready To Be Mailed

OTTAWA, July 18.—(CP)—Health Minister Clayton said last night that it was estimated there were about 3,000,000 families with children under 18 years of age in the 1,250,000 families where family allowance cheques will be received within the next 10 days.

In a speech prepared for delivery on the Trans-Canada network by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Mr. Clayton said the first of the cheques will be mailed Wednesday and a supplementary list will follow shortly.

Mr. Clayton said that not all people who registered would receive their cheques within the next 10 days. It was possible that those who had not registered until the last week in June would receive their cheques in August when the cheque for that month would be combined with the first. Some registration forms had to be held up for consideration, but in these cases also the families would receive their cheques within the next 10 days for the month or months after they completed the registration.

$20,000.00 TO WEST
Approximately $20,000.00 would be distributed monthly in family allowances and the amounts by provinces in the west would be: Manitoba, $1,100,000; Saskatchewan, $1,465,000; Alberta, $1,375,000; and British Columbia, $1,175,000.

The total bonus received by a child from the day of his birth until he reached age 16 would amount to $1,180. Mr. Clayton explained that no family would be allowed to lose family allowances and income tax credits for children. If a wage earner's income was less than $2,000 he would retain 100 per cent of the family allowance payments. If the income was more than $2,000 he would retain none of the bonus because earnings would duplicate his income tax credits.

Here is Mr. Clayton's explanation:

BONUS SCALE
"If you are earning between $1,200 and $3,000 a year you will benefit on a diminishing scale as your income increases. If you are earning between $1,200 and $1,400 a year you will benefit 90 per cent of your family allowance.

"At an income level of $1,500 to $1,800 you will benefit by having 80 per cent of your family allowance. At $1,800 to $2,000 you keep 70 per cent. At $2,000 to $2,200 you keep 60 per cent. At $2,200 to $2,400 you keep 50 per cent. At $2,400 to $2,600 you keep 40 per cent. At $2,600 to $2,800 you keep 30 per cent. At $2,800 to $3,000 you keep 20 per cent. And from $3,000 to $3,500 you keep 10 per cent of your family allowance.

He said the diminishing scale did not mean that the wage earner was going to be out of pocket. "If only means, as I stated earlier, that you will not receive both a full income as an employer for your children and a full family allowance."

"Counter Strategy" Is Boast of Japs

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—The radio claimed yesterday that Japanese army had a "counter-strategy" for the relentless fleet and aerial bombardment which has been Japanese industrial targets for the third time in four days with negligible opposition. "It is vitally necessary that we preserve our strength and strike with lightning effect," the agency said. "We must not move until the time is ripe. We must not play into the enemy's hands."

Music Teachers' College Attracts Great Interest

Great interest is being displayed in the music teachers' college which is opening in London, Ont., in September, it was reported by the school's director, Max Pirani, noted pianist, teacher and lecturer who is in Edmonton Thursday to address a meeting of the music teachers.

"We have received inquiries regarding enrolment in the college, which is the only institution of its kind in this country, from all across the Dominion," the director said.

The college will be held in a separate building and has a recital hall, lecture hall and two teaching studios and a picture gallery.

Students require standing that would permit them to enter university in their own province. Mr. Pirani said, and must also have a minimum of 10 years' experience in the Conservatory of Music or Toronto Conservatory of Music examinations, or Grade 8 in the Royal Society of Music examinations.

"Eventually we hope to make the college a clearing house for the music teachers. Cities or institutions desiring music teachers can apply to the college and we will place our graduates in these positions," he explained.

Students who already hold a teacher's diploma will be permitted to enter the second year of the course.

Mr. Pirani will leave for Banff shortly where he will be director of the music branch of the British Columbia Fine Arts.

Captured in Burma Banff Airman Describes How Japs Treated War Prisoners

By F. L. T. S. P. CROMIE
BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., July 18.—(CP)—Captured in Burma where he was doing reconnaissance work behind the Japanese lines, F. L. T. Kenneth Wheatley of Banff, Alta., is reluctant to talk about his experiences because "I don't want people feeling sorry for me or thinking I had too tough a time."

But no matter what this youthful officer might say, his record of two years in a Japanese internment camp at Rangoon shows that life among the yellow men is not so good.

The story starts in December, 1942, when the 34-year-old pilot joined a Hurricane fighter squadron operating out of Calcutta. When a call came for volunteers for a secret mission, Wheatley stepped forward.

He was decorated behind enemy lines—and in April, 1943, was captured. "I spotted the enemy patrol about 15 yards from me," Wheatley said, "and I started to get away. The next thing I knew, I was tied up. A Nip had sneaked up behind me and clutched me with a rifle. Why they didn't shoot me, I don't know, but I will never know. One Nip pulled out his bayonet, stuck it in my chest, then put it away. I was thinking then what a poor place that was to die."

Sent by train to Rangoon, Wheatley was put in a civilian jail with 300 Allied prisoners. "I was surprised almost our entire diet," he said, adding that 40 per cent of the prisoners died from malnutrition.

With him were other Canadians, including P. L. McLeod, Harewood, Peace River, Alta.; P. L. H. A. A. Lewis, Wilcox, Alta.; and A. A. Blumrose, Alta., and F. O. A. K. Cuddy, Sandford, Man.

ON FORCED MARCH
When the British 14th Army moved in on Rangoon, the Japanese prisoners on the road, Wheatley being marched four days and four nights despite his weakened condition.

But the British troops eventually caught up with them, and "our last day was pretty hectic—but we were lucky to be free."

Tomorrow's Menu
DINNER: Browned veal steaks with onions and tomatoes, mashed potatoes, corn on cob, mixed green salad, bread, butter, peach veal fruit, coffee, milk.

VELVET FRUIT RECIPE
Six cups fruit puree, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 cup water. Boil fruit puree, sugar, lemon juice and water. Boil 10 minutes. Add puree mixture slowly to the gelatin, stirring continuously. Pour into ice cream freezer. Use a mixture of 8 parts ice to 1 part fruit. Freeze 4 hours or until the crank turns hard and the mixture is firm and clings to tines. Remove dasher. Velvet Fruit may be served soft-frozen or hard-frozen. To hard-frozen, cover container closely, drain water from freezer, pack with more ice, using 3 parts ice to 1 part fruit. Or pour frozen Velvet Fruit at once into moisture-vapor-resistant cartons. Place in refrigerator to harden before using. Set temperature control at lowest point.

To make Velvet Fruit in a mechanical refrigerator: While many people enjoy the fruit flavor of velvet fruit made in a mechanical refrigerator, it will not be as velvety and tender as much to volume as when frozen in an ice cream freezer.

CHUNGKING, July 18.—(AP)—The Chinese People's Political Council yesterday passed a resolution urging the government to initiate negotiations for a 20-year military alliance with Russia, Britain and France.

The United States was not included in the resolution on the ground that it was against American policy to enter such an alliance. The People's Political Council is an advisory body which recommends to the central executive committee of the National Government for final decision. It has been in session since July 7.

RIMBEY—Rimby crops benefited by more than half an inch of rain during the night. This brings the district rainfall since April 1 to 2.74 inches.

One of the things which possibly you might not know about grapes is that in one variety, the Thompson Seedless, must in California, be tested by the state before being marketed. The state of California requires a sugar content of 18 per cent, although some growers do not harvest the fruit until the sugar content runs around 18 per cent.

The commonness of the grape in metropolitan markets for the summer is one of the miracles of modern transportation. An intricate and complicated system has been built up of handling the grapes meant for distant markets, by putting them in boxes into pre-cooled cars, which are then loaded with ice. The car is then sealed, and on its way and is only opened after it arrives at its destination. Following this method, grapes are regularly shipped from the Coachella Valley District in California, all the way across the United States to New York.

Table grapes are among the most excellent of fruit, and besides providing Vitamin A and C, are also good sources of such minerals as potassium, sodium, calcium, etc. The natural fruit sugar contained in grapes is available in a form which is readily absorbed and absorbed. Many people find this fruit to have a slightly laxative effect.

Most of you will not be tempted to use grapes in the exclusion of other foods, but you should be able to benefit by taking them occasionally while they are in season. I suggest that you eat them by themselves, either in place of meals, or the last thing at night before retiring. This fruit must be

Like fruit trees, then use your naturally sweetened fruit supplies—berries, peaches, grapes, apples, etc.—in cold water. Wash, wash, wash and get them. It's a wonderful dessert.

Tomorrow's Menu
DINNER: Browned veal steaks with onions and tomatoes, mashed potatoes, corn on cob, mixed green salad, bread, butter, peach veal fruit, coffee, milk.

VELVET FRUIT RECIPE
Six cups fruit puree, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 cup water. Boil fruit puree, sugar, lemon juice and water. Boil 10 minutes. Add puree mixture slowly to the gelatin, stirring continuously. Pour into ice cream freezer. Use a mixture of 8 parts ice to 1 part fruit. Freeze 4 hours or until the crank turns hard and the mixture is firm and clings to tines. Remove dasher. Velvet Fruit may be served soft-frozen or hard-frozen. To hard-frozen, cover container closely, drain water from freezer, pack with more ice, using 3 parts ice to 1 part fruit. Or pour frozen Velvet Fruit at once into moisture-vapor-resistant cartons. Place in refrigerator to harden before using. Set temperature control at lowest point.

To make Velvet Fruit in a mechanical refrigerator: While many people enjoy the fruit flavor of velvet fruit made in a mechanical refrigerator, it will not be as velvety and tender as much to volume as when frozen in an ice cream freezer.

ALTHOUGH the Lady Barber to Rolling Car quinnella of $119.30 in Tuesday's races was far from a sure bet, nevertheless the privilege of cashing just such an item would be a very pleasant little duty. And no doubt the holders of the 48 tickets would vote for a repeat any afternoon.

A daily double of $19.88 was set during the meeting here last August—the 10th to be exact—when Edmondson to Larry Juner, but really big pays are few and far between.

The biggest payoff in western racing history was $23,865 (Thatcher to Man of Iron at the Calgary Stampede on July 12 of last year. Yet you, that eminent Claret of Gibeon, suddenly was pushed into the news as a result of that double. And that same gentleman was out at the Exhibition and is reported to have been in on yesterday's $193.30—not on one ticket, but with five.

Larger daily double in Edmonton racing was $17,230 won at 3:08, the ticket being held by W. McLennan. But one Dan Zaganich of Winnipeg held a pair of tickets each worth $14,240. A Lady Alice and Bell's on July 20, 1939. And even had the first ticket to include a straight ticket which yielded $104.30 for a grand total of $25,283. Not bad, eh?

RUSSELL TOP JOCKEY
ROY RUSSELL was Mr. Big amongst the jockeys yesterday with three wins, two seconds and a third, being in the money six times out of a possible ten. Defeats England
In Test Cricket

LONDON, July 18.—(CP)—A London Tuesday scored a spectacular triumph in the third of a series of five test matches between England and Australia, passing England's 518 total with four wickets to spare.

The English team was handicapped by the absence of its captain, Wally Hammond, and an injury to the left thumb of its opening batsman, C. Washburn.

Superior Australian fielding put the visitors on England, which finished its second innings Monday with a lead of 178 for only three wickets lost, was smartly disposed of for only 48 runs.

This was clearly due to Australia's new leg-break bowler, D. E. Cresswell, whose bag for the whole match was nine wickets for 50 runs.

The fourth match of the series will be played here Aug. 6. The champion's holiday.

Favorites Fare Better as Track Condition Officially "Good"

Over 6,000 Attended Second Day's Racing

Quinnella
$119.30
Yesterday

WITH favorable weather conditions and the track officially reported as "good", a crowd of over 6,000 was on hand Tuesday for the second day of the six-day racing meet of the Edmonton Exhibition.

Favorites, evidently doing the fooling more to their liking, for they took their first three races in a row. The favorite, the rolling car, also did the fooling, winning a couple of races, they did well in all except two of the other events.

Any barrier, owned by Lee Williams of Edmonton, was ridden by Roy Russell, combined with Rolling Car, the Mrs. J. R. Kipling entry from Calgary and piloted by Jockey Juner. The surprise quinnella victory and paid off at $119.30. Forty-eight tickets participated. The Liberty Boy to Muckin' double returned $129.00, a total of 220 tickets having moved up on the outside after the race.

Lady Barber, who won by a neck in a driving final with $14.75, rolling car also did the fooling, winning a couple of races, they did well in all except two of the other events.

Highest previous straight payoff was the day was the $10.30 by Van Tinto in the sixth race. Tinto's place money was $10.30, his show $3.33. This horse is both owned and trained by H. Fandy of Calgary.

Three race day money was $11,000 in the mutual handle compared to Monday, a total of $10,000. The day's total was $11,000, a total of $11,000 compared to Monday, a total of $10,000.

Miss Bradeaux's win in the feature race and Suburban was the favorite. Miss Bradeaux, owned by J. R. Kipling, won the race by a neck. The favorite, the rolling car, also did the fooling, winning a couple of races, they did well in all except two of the other events.

Chief Kipling, who made the early pace, was ridden by J. R. Kipling. The favorite, the rolling car, also did the fooling, winning a couple of races, they did well in all except two of the other events.

Liberty Boy, winner of the first half of the double, followed the leaders closely until finding an opening on the inside entering the stretch. Thatcher, who was saved by the double, finished second.

Muckin', ridden by Gonzalez, soon opened a long lead and won with ease. The favorite, the rolling car, also did the fooling, winning a couple of races, they did well in all except two of the other events.

There was some delay getting the race away. The rolling car, who was in the lead, was held back by a couple of hard hits and a right apparent. He hit Walton once to start right in the groove. The fight was stopped but Walton was able to continue after a short rest.

The only real punting came in the eighth when Castiloux landed a hard right to Walton's jaw. He hit hard badly and was just a mauling has until the bell.

He took none of the same in the last part of the ninth but came back to hold his own until the end of the fight.

In Men's Fastball Flyers Stop Commandos To Square Playoff Series

RCAP Flyers handed the Commandos a 12-4 defeat last night at Kingsway park to even up the best-of-five game series at one each, for the right to enter the senior provincial men's football final.

First of the series was awarded to the Commandos by default. Starting out well, the Commandos looked like they were off on the right road when they jumped into a three-run lead in the fourth inning. But the margin was short-lived when the Flyers came through with the five-run inning, generally outlasting the Commandos in the seventh frame to further extend their lead.

Starting off the fourth frame for the Commandos, Walter Zellman, batting second, hit a home run to tie the score at one apiece. The third run on Bill Dwyer's single to right.

To start the Flyers' five-run rally in the fifth, "Lucky" Lang led off with a base on balls and after moving to third on a couple of passed balls came in on Ed Malloy's triple to left field. Hugh Connolly came through with a single to left field to score Malloy, went to second as Bill Dwyer doubled.

Connolly and move Pillon around in three runs, later scored on an error to third. Bruce then hit a sacrifice, a bag and was awarded in for the fifth run on Steve Connolly's sacrifice.

The first double from Meadowdale, Ben to Spindie, took off $16.45. The second from Act Three in the eighth, the Cubs' triple. The quinnella of Zetella and Bill Squid paid $22.60.

Denies Was Nazi Schmeling Tells His Story To Famous Sports Writer

By BILL CUNNINGHAM

HAMBURG, Germany, July 18.—As a sports columnist, I covered Max Schmeling's entire fight career in the United States. I came to know him so well that, when I walked in on him in Hamburg, he knew my arms around me and called me by name although I hadn't seen him since the night Joe Louis nearly killed him—and that was seven years ago, back in 1938.

We Boston sports writers couldn't avoid knowing the young man pretty well because he won the world championship and lost it in two fights with our fellow townsman, Jack Sharkey, and those were the days when we covered both training camps.

After Schmeling was knocked out by Joe Louis in the eighth round of their fight in 1938, he came home to Germany. In the States, we considered him washed up as a top-flight pugilist. I read that he was in the German comeback attempt over here, and he had been known to me as a boxer named Adolf Heuser in a contest at Stuttgart held as being for the European heavyweight championship.

It came the war. The curtain of silence dropped between our land and this, but Schmeling's name kept cropping up in the reports of one sort or another. I read that he was a confirmed Nazi, an expert member of the Nazi army, and a combat aviator. Contrary to what I had heard, I was told that he was a Nazi, in fact, was a tale that he had been in the German army, and Schmeling had never been in the German army, and Schmeling had never been in the German army, and Schmeling had never been in the German army.

Later, however, Schmeling was definitely reported to have joined the German army, and Schmeling was definitely reported to have joined the German army, and Schmeling was definitely reported to have joined the German army, and Schmeling was definitely reported to have joined the German army.

FOUND IN HAMBURG

After the German army was beaten and the British took over Hamburg, it was reported that he had found Schmeling there. I had told Schmeling there. I had told Schmeling there. I had told Schmeling there. I had told Schmeling there.

The AD AHEAD

By Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

It has been interesting to note, in connection with the recent Aldershot riots, that while Canadian Army officials have been busy apologetically explaining that the incident was caused by "the senseless, cowardly action of a small irresponsible group of Canadian soldiers," the British press gallantly sprang to their defence.

The leading British dailies all took the same attitude. They pointed out to the British public that the Canadian troops have been away from their homes longer than any troops from any of the United Nations. "The deserved high reputation of Canadian troops in this country will certainly not be affected by the incident... whose causes are entirely comprehensible," stated the Daily Telegraph.

The question that bothers most people is "Why did they have to take it out on the storekeepers of Aldershot? If they had to riot why didn't they just kick their own camps around?" The answer is easy.

I have lived in Aldershot. It has been a garrison area since the time of Julius Caesar and its occupants and merchants display none of the hospitality which is characteristic of most towns and villages in the old country. The Aldershot merchants look on all troops as tourists and treat them accordingly.

NO SYMPATHY

The troops had no sympathy for these people. Damage to civilian property was not contemplated.

Commercial fishing has been opened this year in the North West Territories and within a few days the McIntyre Production Corporation will commence fishing operations on Great Slave Lake, with prospects of setting out about 2,000,000 pounds of white fish and trout.

Husbands Want Mates To Be Attractive, Careful

Wives Should Preen; Economy Is an Asset; Married Women Should Not Get Sloppy and Neglectful

DEAR MISS DIX—A lot of wives about married women getting sloppy after marriage and neglecting their personal appearance, and they are always advising to "keep themselves as attractive as possible." That means, of course, the spending of enough money to keep well-dressed.

Which do you think a man would prefer—a wife who spends money on her clothes and the beauty shop, or one who goes shabby and leaves the mark that such things cost?

ANSWER—Both. I think the man would like his wife to look pretty and attractive and well-dressed and at the same time, to be economical. It is just good sense to be economical in all things, and a wife who is economical in her dress is a woman who is economical in all things.

When a man sees his wife ugly and shabby, he isn't going to be attracted to her for saving his money. He is just going to be disgusted with her for the way she looks. The country is full of disappointed men who have married women who look like the cat dragged in, and worked their fingers to the bone, and stayed at home and did all the housework, and yet their husbands try to leave them for a girl who is just a little prettier.

So, Clara, the best investment you can make of part of your money is to keep yourself looking like a woman who is a success in life.

LOVES HIS WIFE

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a man who loves his wife and home, but cannot have any home life because of my wife's sister, who insists on living with us. We desired ourselves, which we really needed in order to give her a business course, thinking that in that way we would get rid of her, but she will not work. She pretends to be going to work.

I have gotten so I have to go home in the evenings, knowing she will be there, and I can never get any time with my family alone. What shall I do?

ANSWER—Have enough courage to tell the girl frankly that she must leave. You really don't deserve any sympathy because you are the victim of your own weakness.

MARRIED 12 YEARS

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married 12 years and have two young sons. My husband is a good provider and a domestic man, but he has an unmovable temper. He curses and abuses the children and me until I have become unmanageable. I have come to the point where I feel I must leave him, and I believe I will be able to support the children. What do you think about it?

ANSWER—It is of course, a question that you must settle for yourself. You must decide whether the support you get from your husband outweighs the insult you have to stand from him, and whether it is better for you to have to live on your own than to live with a man who is so much more than a father as he is a husband.

DISCOVER-DESTRUCTION

WHERE WOMEN—"Gosh, Daddy, did you HAVE to tell about the big one that got away? You just don't realize the seriousness of the most situation!"

NON-SURGICAL DRAINAGE OF GALL-BLADDER

The use of a tube (called duodenal tube) to drain the gall bladder is a new method of treating gall bladder disease. It is a non-surgical method, and it is a very effective method. It is a very safe method, and it is a very simple method. It is a very easy method, and it is a very quick method. It is a very reliable method, and it is a very accurate method. It is a very effective method, and it is a very safe method. It is a very easy method, and it is a very quick method. It is a very reliable method, and it is a very accurate method.

A similar procedure, without the tube, was described by Knight under the same term, non-surgical drainage of the gall-bladder.

First you must have chronic cholecystitis or gall-bladder trouble, and you must have a tube (called duodenal tube) inserted into the gall bladder.

Not that there is anything objectionable or exclusive about having chronic cholecystitis (with or without stones), for one out of every five persons past thirty-five has it, and about 4 per cent of the major operations in large hospitals are for gall-bladder trouble, although only about 6 per cent of patients with chronic cholecystitis require surgical operation. The other 94 per cent worry along on diet, medicine and a little surgery.

Your Baby

And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

It is difficult, at best, to keep young children quiet for any length of time. It is, in fact, an impulse to the child, who is intended to be active most of his waking moments. The rest from such constant activity is provided by a nap once a day and an early bedtime.

But there are always times when it is advisable for a child to learn that some quiet is essential. Here are a few suggestions for a mother who has found it useful when children are to be kept quiet.

First, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Second, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Third, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Fourth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Fifth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Sixth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Seventh, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Eighth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Ninth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Tenth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Eleventh, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Twelfth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Thirteenth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Fourteenth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Fifteenth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Sixteenth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Seventeenth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Eighteenth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Nineteenth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Twentieth, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

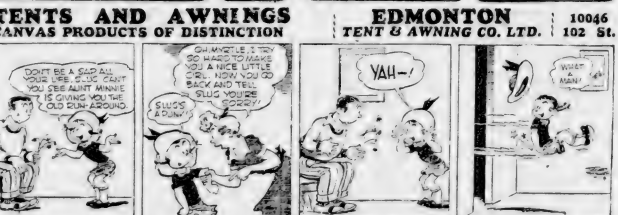

Twenty-first, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.

Twenty-second, if you are at a party, restaurant, or at bedtime, when you are to be quiet, you are to be quiet.
